Important information for the proprietors of Registered Designs

1. How long does protection last?

Registration of your Design takes effect on the Date of Registration shown on the Certificate.

The protection lasts for five years, but by paying extension fees you can keep it in force from the Date of Registration for-

(a) Fifteen years if the application for registration was filed prior to 1st August 1989.

or

(b) Twenty five years if the application for registration was filed on or after 1st August 1989.

Why do two different total periods of protection exist?

The Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (section 269) provides for fourth and fifth period extensions only for those designs filed on or after 1st August 1989.

3. What is the effect of registration under the provisions of section 4 of the Registered Designs Act?

The period of protection available to a Registered Design associated under section 4 with a previously Registered Design cannot continue beyond that of the earlier design. The period(s) of protection may be extended provided the original Registered Design remains in force.

4. When should extension fees be paid?

To keep the registration in force, you (or someone on your behalf) must pay the correct extension fee by the end of each five-year protection period. The Patent Office must receive your extension fee within the last three months of this period. Designs Form 9A must accompany the fee.

5. Will a reminder be sent?

For your own peace of mind and protection, you should set up and maintain effective arrangements for extending your registration. If your application for registration was filed on or after 1st August 1989 the Designs Registry at the Patent Office is required to send a reminder to your last registered address for correspondence in the six weeks after the relevant protection period has ended. This is meant to alert you to the possible failure of your extension arrangements - it is not a substitute for them.

6. What if the Patent Office does not receive a fee and form by the end of the relevant protection period?

If this happens, you have a further six months in which you should:

a) apply and pay for extra time to pay the extension fee

and

b) send Designs Form 9A with the extension fee and a time fee.

If you do not do so, protection stops.

7. Is the extension fee less for a Registered Design endorsed 'Licence of Right'?

No

8. How should Registered Design and extension fees be paid?

a) Before paying, please check the current scale of fees with Designs Registry at the Patent Office.

b) Please pay by cash, money order, postal order, banker's draft or cheque. Please do not pay by postage stamps which cannot be accepted. Cheques, money orders etc should be crossed and made payable to 'The Comptroller-General, Patent Office.'

c) Always send the fee(s) with the completed form(s) and enclose a Fee Sheet (FS1) listing the forms and fees.

d) Post or deliver your forms and fees to the Patent Office. If posting, please address your envelope to 'The Cashier, The Patent Office, Cardiff Road, Newport, Gwent NP9 1RH'. Deliver by hand either to Newport or to 'The Patent Office, 25 Southampton Buildings, London WC2A 1AY'.

9. Where are forms available?

Fee Sheets (FS1) and Designs Forms 9A are available from the Clerk of Stationery, the Patent Office, Unit 6, Nine Mile Point, Cwmfelinfach, Gwent NP1 7HZ.

10. What if ownership of the registration is acquired by someone else?

Anyone who claims to have acquired the property in a Registered Design through any transaction, legal document or event has the right to apply to the Registrar for registration of his or her ownership in the Register of Designs. The Designs Registry at the Patent Office will explain how to apply.
